

FROM BUENOS AIRES.—We have received from our correspondent at Baltimore a Buenos Ayres paper—the British Packet—of the 7th of May. It mentions the receipt of advices from Montevideo stating that the Government had ordered the closing of that port against the departure of all vessels; but no cause for this proceeding is assigned.

The Monroevian Government had likewise ordered all the refugee Argentines, who had arrived in that city, to assemble in the great square, prepared to take up arms for the defence of the city and the Oriental Republic.

The principal actor in the horrible assassinations at Buenos Ayres had been apprehended and shot.

Commodore Brown was still off the harbor of Montevideo with his squadron.

The Packet contains a list of donations to the Buenos Ayren Government in support of the war, amounting to some hundred and odd thousand (paper) dollars. Some of the letters accompanying these donations are published, and it is at once laughable and pitiable to see what terms the writers apply to their adversaries.—Recurrent loathsome traitors—those the perfidious, ingrateful and perfused deserter Juarez, Maria Paez—the obscure, worthless, double-faced, infamous rebel Juan Pablo Lopez—the inexcusable traitor militiaman Fierros, Rivera, &c., &c. If bold names could kill, the Orientals would be shortly buried.
